More About Weeds

The question of how much of the annual cost of summerfallow should be charged against weed control will bear a little inspection. From experiments conducted in the semi arid parts of Canada and the United States it would appear that the only benefit obtained from cultivating summerfallow is the conservation of moisture from one year to the next. In the absence of weeds it appears to be definitely established that the benefits obtained from the cultivation of summerfallow is not profitable in other words a field left uncultivated may contain almost as much moisture as a cultivated field if no weeds are allowed to grow. For this reason it seems fair to charge 90 per cent of the summerfallow cost to weed control and 10 per cent to the preparation of a seed bed. In fact there are a few parts of the West where the conservation of moisture is a drawback and in such localities the whole cost of summerfallow should be charged to weed control.

Between these two extremes is a large area where the moisture in the lower soil levels need building up after a period of years. The growth of weeds uses up the moisture, necessitating more frequent summerfallowing than otherwise would be the case.

Taken over the whole of the prairie provinces, 60 per cent is a very fair proportion of the summerfallow cost to charge against weeds.

Loss of Return from Land Under Fallow

Disregarding those areas of southern Alberta, Saskatchewan and southwestern Manitoba which require to be kept fallow to conserve moisture, which we can safely say that in the remainder of the west the frequency of summerfallow has been increased 50 per cent due to the excessive increase in weeds. Therefore approximately 3,000,000 acres are being summerfallowed each year, which would otherwise be producing grain. Assuming a low rental value of $3.00 per acre for this land, the annual loss due to it not producing a crop would be at least $9,000,000.

Here and There

A. C. Leighton, R.B.A., president of the Government Art College at Calgary, will again hold his summer art school for selected art students from the province of Alberta at the Kananaskis Dude Ranch near Banff, Alta. Mr. Leighton, who is a grand nephew of the late Lord Leighton, president of the British Academy from 1878 to 1886, has been painting for years at Banff and through the Canadian Rockies. He is also head of the Institute of Technology and Art in connection with the University of Alberta. The Kananaskis Dude Ranch, operated by Mrs. Bill Brewster, is well known throughout Canada and the United States, and is surrounded by the most magnificent of Canadian Rocky Mountain scenery.

Governor Frank Murphy, of the Philippine Islands, was the guest of Commodore R. G. Latta, of the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Britain, at Manila on March 15. Governor Murphy inspected the liner, which is engaged on her annual Round the World cruise, and wished Commodore Latta and his ship many happy returns to Manila.

Captain Cyril D. Neroutos, for many years Manager of the British Columbia Coast Boat Steamship service of the Canadian Pacific Railway, relinquishes his duties on April 1st under the provisions of the Company's retirement regulations. He is succeeded by Captain R. W. McLurray, formerly Marine Superintendent at Vancouver.

Three cruises to the Norwegian fjords and the Land of the Midnight Sun will be made by the Empress of Australia this summer. The first cruise, of 14 days, leaves Southampton June 28, the second from London July 14, for a 19 day trip as far north as Hammerfest, North Cape and Spitzbergen, and the third from Immingham, 12 days, to the fjords and Oslo and Copenhagen. Connecting sailings from Canada for the three cruises are the Empress of Australia from Quebec June 21, the Duchess of Atholl from Montreal July 6, and the Duchess of York from Montreal July 20.

Your favorite picture stars, from Grete Garbo to Betty Boop will be seen as well as heard aboard the "Duchess" liners, as well as the "Empresses" of the Canadian Pacific this summer. The Duchess of Bedford and Duchess of York are already equipped with talking picture machines and the Duchess of Atholl and Duchess of Richmond will have them for their first voyages this summer. The Empress of Britain and Empress of Australia have been showing talkies for some time now.

The Easter holidays, commencing March 29 and extending to April 3rd, offer an exceptional opportunity for travel. The Canadian Pacific Railway is making generous fare concessions and indications are that extensive travel programmes will be carried out by Canadians and visitors to the Dominion.

A large party of Holy Year Pilgrims from the Maritime Provinces sailed from Halifax recently in the Canadian Pacific liner Montclare. On Easter Eve they will be received in audience by the Pope. They will visit London, Paris, Milan, Assisi and other cities in Europe before returning to Canada at the end of April.

Household Drudgery The Bane of a Woman's Life

Nature intended women to be strong and healthy instead of weak and sickly, but how can a woman have good health when she has to go through the household drudgery without any relaxation. Is it any wonder she becomes nervous and irritable, has hot flushes, faint and dizzy spells, shortness of breath, sinking and smothering sensations, and can't sleep at night.

Women who are weak and run down will find in Milburn's H. & N. Pills a remedy to strengthen the system and bring back the much desired health.

A Record Of Service

Forty-four years as member of any parliament, even in the inconspicuous role of a back-bencher, would be an impressive record of service and endurance. It would indicate, at the very least, a tremendous capacity to resist boredom and endure platitudes.

Forty-four years as member of the British parliament, where the M.P.'s job is pretty much a full-time affair, is almost a transcendent feat, for, at Westminster, oratorical standards differ but little from those of parliaments and legislatures nearer home.

Forty-four years as member of the British parliament, thirty of them in the very forefront of polemical politics, twenty of them in the role of an Imperial as well as a national figure, and, at least ten of them as a world luminary, represents something, however, which cannot be judged by ordinary criteria.

Forty-four years as member of the British parliament, during eighteen or so a member of the cabinet and six of them spent as war-time premier, the dynamic career of a whirling world—that is the consummate achievement which fell to the lot of a little Welsh lawyer.

David Lloyd George: by perhaps it was unnecessary to mention the name for, were it posed to any group of intelligent citizens within the British empire, it is doubtful if the juxtaposition of "forty-four years" with "war-time premier" in the question, would fail to elicit the right answer.

David Lloyd George has just celebrated his forty-fourth year as member of the British parliament. In that long term, the little Welsh lawyer who entered the portals of the "Mother of Parliaments" with none of that political background which, prior to his advent, was deemed essential to ministerial rank, has run the full gamut of political achievement; has scaled the dizzy heights and been dashed from them; has tasted the sweet fruits of popular acclaim and the bitter of obloquy. Spectacular always, in success as in defeat, his is perhaps the most amazing personality in its very contradictions of a generation replete with outstanding figures.

To-day, in the quieter nooks of political life, the old fires burn dim—but they still burn. The "Limehouse" days which added a word to the English language is recalled, ever and anon, as he asseverates warnings and behests a heedless world needs not. From the couch of the prophet, or the desk of the mentor, he sallies, occasionally, to guide and to counsel those who, caught in the full flood of the stream, pay little attention to what adumbrates the stiller eddies of the backwaters. In sickness or in health, one word of contumely brings the old fires forth. Jove still can thunder—oburgations!

His attendance at sittings of parliaments is rarer than it used to be, but a strange reaction follows his periodic entries. Be the debate never so dull, when Lloyd George appears members rouse themselves from lethargy and prepare for action. Imperceptibly, a ripple animates the house; electricity is in the air. Lloyd George has entered! Surely here, despite the fact a whirling world has thrown him from the vortex, is anything but a spent force.

Two or three weeks ago, he celebrated the forty-fourth anniversary of his election to parliament. If he were asked what is his fondest recollection over all those years, undoubtedly, his answer would be: it had been given him to retain the respect, the loyalty, the confidence and the affection of his own constituency of Carmarvon. That is, perhaps, the most amazing feature of his amazing record. For forty-four years he has enjoyed the unbroken loyalty of his constituents. For forty-four years he has enjoyed their confidence, their respect and their affection. Surely no man could ask more. That is the measure of his service and the gauge of his success.

Tortoise On New Coin

Just why a tortoise should be depicted on a coin in these times of fast moving money, is being conjectured by those who have seen the new coins of the Fiji Islands. The piece is worth approximately 12 cents. The only explanation is that the tortoise lives in the mountain country of Fiji. The shilling, valued at about 25 cents, shows a speedy Fijian barque. The coins are part of a complete new series.

Worth Fabulous Sum

Russian Crown Jewels May Be Shown At Chicago Fair

The Russian crown jewels, valued at nearly $250,000,000, and one of the richest treasures of precious stones in the world, will be displayed at the Century of Progress Exposition in Chicago this summer if the Soviet authorities grant a request they have received from exposition authorities that the gems be lent for the period beginning May 26, when the fair re-opens. The authorities have the request under advisement. The collection, which is assembled in an isolated storeroom in the State Bank at Moscow and is guarded day and night by Red soldiers including the crown used at the coronation of Catherine the Great and her successors, which is said by experts to be worth $52,000,000. Almost 5,000 diamonds, together with a great rubly, go toward making up its weight of five pounds.

Canada's exports of agricultural products is a factor in maintaining her position as the seventh largest contributor to world trade. In the calendar year 1932, Canada stood fifth in exports, ninth in imports, and seventh in total trade among the nations of the world. Nearly 32 per cent. of her total foreign trade and over 46 per cent. of her export trade in 1932-33 was made up of products of farm origin.

Marvels of the Human Eye

By F. M. CROWE, Optometrist-Optician, Calgary

NO. 10—SENDING THE WHOLE CHILD TO SCHOOL

In years gone by the physical side of life was much more neglected than it is to-day. In recent years we have given more attention to the value, not only of life itself, but also of those things which make life worth living.

Most modern school systems have developed a health program, including on their staff health officers to look after the physical well-being of the students.

There are many physical defects which might retard the child in his school work but this article is intended to stress the prevalence of eyestrain and its attendant evils.

About three people out of every ten use glasses to-day for some purpose but it is estimated that seven out of ten should be wearing them. This almost universal need for assistance in modern civilized life is largely due to the constant use of the eyes at close range and almost constant exposure to "glare" from sidewalk roads or buildings, printing on glossy paper and from high powered electric lights.

Modern life demands modern equipment and it is the constant use of the eyes for close work that has made scientific glass-fitting a great basic human need.

The strain of civilized life falls most heavily upon the eyes, the most delicate and the hardest worked of any of the organs of the body. This is especially true of school children because a child's eyes are immature; they are baby eyes until he has reached the age of proper development and too frequently he is required to do work which would mean a full load for mature eyes.

There are twenty-five million young people in the schools of this continent and it has been found by actual survey that twenty per cent. of them have eyes which are so completely out of focus that it is interfering with their progress in school. Considering the age of proper development and too frequently he is required to do work which would mean a full load for mature eyes.

Millions of young people quit school earlier than they otherwise would, because of some physical handicap; millions of others are retarded in school work, finally graduated with inefficient grades, and are equipped for the battle of life. These two types become recruits in the great army of misfits—square pegs in round holes—the cause of much of the world's misery. Retarded students retard the work of the entire class and indeed of the whole school, adding immensely to the work of the teacher as well as to the cost of operating schools, thus adding to the burden of the taxpayer. The physically defective child is therefore a burden to the community.

It is not the fault of school authorities that so many children are neglected on the physical side. The neglect is too frequently due to ignorance and lack of co-operation on the part of parents who are uninformant or prejudiced and who give too little attention to some of the physical needs of their children—not the least of which is eyesight.

There is an intimate relation between eyestrain and inefficiency and physical ills. All the physical activities of the body are made possible only through the expenditure of nerve force which is our vital motor power. Where do we get this power? In a healthy normal individual it is automatically stored up during a night's sleep, sufficient for each day's use and any person who uses more nerve force each day than is stored up the night before is slowly but surely facing nervous bankruptcy. Nerve exhaustion is the cause of most of our physical ills and the eyes play a far greater part in this condition than is generally realized.

The examination of children's eyesight by school nurse or teacher is of limited value. At best they can only be expected to discover the worst cases of poor vision whereas a person might be able to read every letter on the test chart and yet be suffering from nervous exhaustion due to eyestrain. Such cases usually escape the notice of any but a skillful optometrist who knows what to look for and how to correct it. Such cases as described are the ones in greatest need of help.

Nobility Of Germany In Danger Of Losing Their Titles

Germany's nobility was called on recently to prove their German blood back to 1750, or renounce their titles. The president of the German Nobility Association invited all members to submit a genealogical table of their families, going back to 1750. Noblemen and noblewomen who cannot establish pure German blood, according to Nazi standards, must renounce their titles.

Safety Of Mail Bags

England Lost Only One Out Of 40,000,000 Last Year

Only one of more than 40,000,000 mail-bags, each containing an average of 5,000 letters, had come to grief last year in Britain up to the end of October. And that bag contained nothing of value. A few years ago the average number of mailbags stolen in a year was more than 60, while there were frequent attacks on officials in isolated post offices. There have been few such attacks this year—one of them successful. A reorganization scheme involving close co-operation between Scotland Yard and the special investigation department of the Post Office police throughout the country is responsible for the improvement.

Despite Price Rise Tea Still Most Economical Drink

For the past two years people in Canada have been enjoying the lowest prices for tea in a decade, but this has meant tremendous losses to growers who, to save their industry, have restricted tea exports and caused prices to advance. Tea packers, particularly those supplying very fine quality teas, have reluctantly been forced to increase prices.

Japan's Rivalry May Cut Living Standard

American Diplomat Says Competition Hard To Cope With

Japan's commercial rivalry, ultimately may result in a lower standard of living throughout the world, Richard Washburn Child, American diplomat, said.

Child, in Europe as President Roosevelt's special representative to study and improve trade conditions, said he had come to the conclusion during his two week's study in Great Britain—first stop on his trade tour.

He admitted that at present he discerned no means of coping with the increased commercial rivalry of the Japanese, with their lower wage scales and production costs, which threaten to wreck the English textile trade abroad, including India.

"My British friends told me that they believe the Japanese technical efficiency is at least as vital a force in enhancing Japanese competition as lower wages and their living standard," he added.

Wizard At Illumination

Nova Scotia Man Planned Many Spectacular Lighting Effects

Walter D'Arcy Ryan, famous creator of lighting effects and director of the illuminating engineering laboratory at the Schenectady works of the General Electric Co., died recently of a heart attack at his home in Schenectady.

Born in Kentville, Nova Scotia, 63 years ago, the son of the late ex-Mayor and Mrs. J. W. Ryan, Walter Ryan had for many years been known as the "wizard" of illumination.

He was the man who had outshone the Aurora Borealis or the scintillating stars of a moonlight night with electrical effects of his own devising. For instance, the illuminating of Niagara Falls, the magnificent lighting effects of the Panama Pacific Exposition in San Francisco; those of the Exposition in Rio Janeiro, Brazil; the Washington Arms Conference; the Silver Jubilee of the City of New York; the Altar of Victory in Chicago; the Republic Eagle Sunburst, during the National Convention in Kansas City, and his most marvellous achievement of all, the lighting of the 1933 World's Fair in Chicago.

Of his Nova Scotia-born engineer, Thomas A. Edison once said: "This man Ryan has performed miracles."

Two-thirds of this power will be used to operate an ice-making machine, for Claude expects to anchor near the shore of some tropical place and make ice for sale at a fifth the present price.

Accommodations For Dobbin in Drumheller

Well sir, by gosh! Scenes of former years will soon be revived in Drumheller, for the city council decided at its last meeting to erect a forty foot hitching rack for the convenience of visiting farmers' steeds. One of the choicest spots in town has been allotted on first street east between third and railway avenues.

Depression has brought the return of the horse to this district. Farmers who can no longer afford to run their cars are by no means short of transportation. Home made contraptions some of which are the bodies of the autos which put 'Dobbin' on the retired list have been made over into buggies and can often be seen in the city.

Soil Blowing Grave Problem East of Here

EXCEL, April 25—Seeding is now general in this district, under favorable moisture conditions. Less wheat than usual will be seeded—practically. High winds are causing soil drifting on older fields. Farmers here agree that some general plan to stop this disastrous drifting will have to be adopted.

Green grass is showing, giving the stock a new lease on life after one of the hardest winters this part has known, owing to feed shortage. Another cause of short acreage is lack of power, almost every farmer having lost from five or more horses.

"I'M FEELIN' FINE"

There ain't no use of kickin' friend, When things don't come your way; It does no good to holler round, And grumble night an' day. The thing to do is curb your grief, Cut out your little whine; And when they ask you how you are, Jest say "I'm feelin' fine."

There ain't no man alive but what Is booked to get his slap; There ain't no man that walks but what From trouble gets his rap. Go mingle with the bunch, old boy, Where all the bright lights shine, And when they ask you how you are, Jest say "I'm feelin' fine."

Your heart may jest be bustin' with Some real or fancied woe, But when you smile the other folks Ain't really apt to know. The old world laughs at headaches, friend, Be they your own or mine, So when they ask you how you are, Jest say "I'm feelin' fine." —Anon.

There is almost no demand in Canada for seed that is inferior to grade 2, and fully 85 per cent of the demand is for seed that will grade No. 1 under the Seeds Act-Dominion Seed Commissioner.

Given Promises of Cattle Industry Benefits

"Hon. H. H. Stevens, minister of trade and commerce, received our presentations with the greatest of sympathy and I was impressed with his sincerity of effort to do all possible to assist the cattle industry," said R. R. Macleay, High River, who was in the city of Edmonton Monday morning after representing the western cattle industry before the agricultural committee of the House of Commons.

Mr. Macleay said that the main point brought to the attention of the committee was the importance of reducing freight rates in line with those accorded other agricultural products. Other phases of the industry were also brought to the minister's attention, he said, and he was optimistic that some thing would be done to help the western cattlemen in this regard.

Commenting on conditions in the southern part of the province Mr. Macleay said that they had very greatly improved. Seeding which had been in progress for the past few years was about one month ahead of last year, and that there appeared to be a fair amount of moisture in the ground.

The grass was coming along in fine shape, he declared, and was showing better for the time of the year than had been the case for many years. He said the cattle had wintered well, losses had been small and generally speaking the outlook was certainly brighter than in 1933.
